Deep down at the bottom of the sea under coral and sand hidden is Atlantis
The earth fetched back this heavy golden land
It happens always, all the time
If flowers wilt, raindrops fall, but it's a bad mistake if we think:
The sun will shine until the end of time and there's nothing left to loose
The earth will cry until the end of time
Just tryin' to do not die Far away in the rain forest green among tall trees where wild life rules is a man just one small part of the big monster we call life Circle of tremendous powers When creatures die, next were born
but it's a bad mistake if we think
