Faded flowers fed with dirt, mashed up soon, were not heard

Used as ground for wealth and done the slaughter, darkened sun.

Look them in their eyes and tell them why you kick them in the teeth

Look them straight in the eyes and tell them why you think they're not worth the dust they breathe

Life

is all we need

advice

when silent gutter cries

on holy night we see

helpless melting tears

Life

what life never should be

Look away by thinking of giving up the gluttony keep a low profile when working class shows energy
