When I dream,
I get pictures of the world I've never seen I'm playing parts upon the silver screen I'm anything my dream wants me to be The picture always ends with you and me

There are times, that you need to look a little deeper down inside you might not always like the things you find you may find you're running out of time but the truth is always there for you to find there's an angel, watching over me we've got angels, the kind that burns and I can't see

there's an angel, watching over me

when the nightmares come and the hounds of hunt surround me when the thick comes on let the devil sends his dogs to find me
when the nightmares come
and the hounds of hunt surround me let the thick come on let the devil sends his dogs to find me when I dream, I get pictures of the world I've never seen I'm playing parts upon the silver screen I'm anything my dream needs me to be the picture always ends with you and me

there's an angel
Watching over me
We've got angels the kind that burns and I can't see
there's an angel
watching over me
There's an angel
The kind that burns and I can't see
It keeps watching over me

Watching you and me There's an angel there for you and me
