look out the ship you sailed now has gone without you has left you all alone and you just stood and watched look out for the last man alive don't wonder how he has lived, so long as the ice around you starts to melt don't panic, im holdin your life belt or i'll just stand and watch

look out for the last man alive

you were never meant to be when you first put out to sea
