"Pretty target"

Since you came along high above the scene
You've taken all the worry out of me
You brought a change that chemicals can't find
I'm no longer thinking that I'm living in a medium time

I won't let you down
No I won't let you down
You're such a pretty target for this world to kick around
I won't let you down
No I won't let you down
Not since you dragged me from my hole in the ground

I smoked the world
Drunk dry the sea
Was devoted to my mirror which I could never see
Then you came along oh so prettily
And in the twist of a year I was living in a dream
