"Windows"

On the day that we first met, I knew we were golden
We were tired of the broken windows
This world's left you, it's broken too, and I feel broken
The man with the broken window

No, I will reach into the sky
No I don't know the reasons why

Cut the tree to steal the branch, all for a chance
To mend the broken windows
Tear the earth to make the glass, all for a chance
To mend the broken windows

No, I will reach into the sky
No I don't know the reasons why

Break the glass to tear the sky, ah, don't ask me why
We've broken all the windows

No, I will reach into the sky
No I don't know the reasons why

We broke another window
