"Chemical God"

Demons harder than human flesh and bones
A chemical god in control of your life
Shoot yourself to another level
Sometimes to your master, sometimes to the ground

A new injection of fuel to your mind
You got a hole that is burning inside
It's always there for you to carry around
And in the end it will drag you down

Substances in your hand
Addiction is no longer a choice
A chemical god in your head in command
Fusses around and scream for more

You try so hard and then you hit the road
The road to heaven takes you straight to hell
Everything you got turns filthy and black
Bones into ashes your soul into flames
