Recorded at the Parkdale Hotel 10-September-1993
with Sweet Daddy Siki

assisting with the vocals.

(Spoken) Now we're gonna go on with the next one if we can manage it. Four five one two three...

(various non-lyrical sounds and instrumental breaks)

Let's take a look at the band here...

Right first honking out his own brand of nihilistic surf
music,

Mississauga's own Sean Lennon look-alike, the mysterious, the unknown

Comrade X.

We are blessed tonight to be able to witness intercourse between a young man and his first love. Chris Woodill and his asp tongue on the trumpet.

The demure sky goddess Carlile on the woodwinds.

Vocals by the able throated Danielle Stilwell and Anita

Gulati. Check it out Danny Girl!

And in the back, beating out no shit on the skins, the hottest chicks with sticks in the entire west end, Peggy Thrasher Baycroft

and Pearl

Headbanger Anderson.

And Captain Soul himself, the headliner at the Hotel

this month, the big bad motherfucker Sweet Daddy Siki. Sweet!

Thanks for coming out kids!

Thickets, fields,

And all else that is,

Were once the gate of Fuwa --

The autumn wind blows. (Basho)
