Music & Lyrics by P. Wagner

The clouds have prepared for rain and storm.

The chill of the wind has frozen all the pain.

I know in my room it's dry and warm.

but I cannot stand to scan the walls in vain.

White and wonderful the snow covers my hair.

I reach out but you're not there.

In the days of december

I'm lonely ever since you're gone.

In the night I remember

your frozen hands that kept me warm.

in the days of december.

I've never seen sense in future plans.

I know that the time will make it up somehow.

But god, how I miss you. there's no words to tell you how it looks inside myself now.

Cold and beautiful.

your vision in the ice.

I reach out but you're not there.

In the days of december

I'm lonely ever since you're gone.

In the night I remember

your frozen hands that kept me warm.

in the days of december.
