I want to be
Somewhere far from here
I'm watching you
As you wave goodbye
I won't take (I won't take)
I won't weigh you down
Following suit (Following suit)
So just count me out

I can't get it up
Can't put it together
I should have known better
Than to turn into this

I can't believe (I can't believe)
I've become removed
Tighten the line (Tighten the line)
And pull up hello
I will change (I will change)
I won't weigh me down
Carving this space (Carving this space)
Never count me out

I can't get it up
Can't put it together
I should have known better
Than to turn into this fiend
Than to turn into this fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into this fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into

I say everything's how it ought to be
I say nothing should ever change
I say I only know how I used to be
I say I don't want a fucking thing to do with it
I say everything's how it ought to be
I say nothing should ever change
I say I only know how I used to be
I say I don't want a fucking thing to do with it

Than to turn into this fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into this fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into this fiend (I should have known better)
Than to turn into this fiend
