Ridicule my own
So precious alone
These faces of everyone remind me of home
You're plotting riddled sin
All my needs giving in
Blow me a kiss and leave me to the dogs
Ridicule my own
So precious alone
These faces of everyone remind me of home
You're plotting riddled sin
All my needs giving in
Blow me a kiss and leave me to the dogs

Ridicule my own
So precious alone
These faces of everyone remind me of home
You're plotting riddled sin
All my needs giving in
Blow me a kiss and leave me to the dogs

So, you think you got it
You think you know me
You wanna bring me down
I am in my finest hour

Ridicule my own
So precious alone
These faces of everyone remind me of home
Ridicule I know
So precious, so low
These faces of everyone remind me of home

You're watching me dying
How am I looking?
Why don't you take a picture?
You're plotting riddled sin
All my needs giving in
Blow me a kiss and leave me to the dogs

My fear, traps me waiting for it (For it)

My past is glowing red and yellow, again
My past is glowing red and yellow, again
My past is glowing red and yellow, again
My past is glowing red and yellow, again

Run back where you came from
Not that it matters
I'll never see you again
My fists strain to sift mercy

Ridicule my own
So precious alone
These faces of everyone remind me of home
You're plotting riddled sin
All my needs giving in
Blow me a kiss and leave me to the dogs

My fear, traps me waiting for it

My past is glowing red and yellow, again
My past is glowing red and yellow, again
My fate will show me where to follow
My past is glowing red and yellow, again
