Yeah!

To be understood by the people
You must be just like them to be cool
And you will have to dress just like them
And be the clone of who they are

I dont want to be anyone but me
But to be cool I have to be three
Three people say that I am not
Not the person that they would want to be around

As a figure out in the crowd
I must be able to figure out
The places where they eat and go
To be cool enough to be known

I dont want to be anyone but me
But to be cool I have to be three
Three people say that I am not
Not the person that they would want to be around

If the president can copyright laws
If god can say we're all the same
If parents say we are individuals

Then why dont they copyright every single person
So we dont get pushed around for being a little different
And maybe the world would be a better place
If all these kids get fingers in there face

I dont want to be anyone but me
But to be cool I have to be three
Three people say that I am not
Not the person that they would want to be around

I dont want to be anyone but me
But to be cool I have to be three
Three people say that I am not
Not the person that they would want to be around
