When the ages end and all the gates fall
We will be here to take it all
Only one person to make the stand
All the people holding hands
Everyone is here to show us up
To the gods laughing up above
Trading place and personalities
Just to make us feel like we believe
I would love to say this to you
You mother fucker up there
Do you know what I am

Going through!
You cannot see me at all
Showing you!
That I cannot believe in you

So many things left in this life
These things I have yet to find
I wish I was you

When the people die and we all bawl
Freedom to the cities in the rainfall
Only one man does and one man takes
The rain on the blacktop through the stakes
Cherish one more gift from the lord up above
Whom you believe and say won't give it up
Why do you believe in something that kills you
Anyone will be able to get into heaven
All I want is you to join me and shoot him down
To make him fall to the ground
Do you know who I am

I am the hero!
Here to save them all
The real one!
I want them to all live

So many things left in this life
These things I have yet to find
I wish I was you

Then maybe I could save my friends
Then maybe I could save my friends
Then maybe I could save my friends
Then maybe I could save my friends

So many things left in this life
These things I have yet to find
I wish I was you

So many things left in this life
These things I have yet to find
I wish I was you
