lalalalala lalalalala x4

Well I dont know just how to tell you this in a telephone call from so far that Im never coming back say you dont understand one day you'll understand why, Im never coming back some other mother please believe like I believed in you for everything I tried and tried again but I never could conceive what you wanted so so badly now Im drowning in my dreams and I dont know just where Im going but they (chorus)

they dont know me yet
the day will soon come they dont know my best
sure as the sun has set
the day will soon come yeah, the day the day the day will soon come and what I really want I really really want is what I havent got yet that's what I really want Am I the only one Dont everybody want to try to get get get what they've been dreaming of some people say

I dont know my way I cant find my place and my dreams are much too big for the head they're in when you gonna give it all up? say Im stranded in my own world I'm going nowhere

I thought you knew me better

My baby is crying said he can't compete with all the fire in my belly and the fire is rousing to the words I speak barely express the thing I mean so deep boy I hear what you've been playing at your radio but I've been bumping something special through my head head phones you can say I'm dumb say what I'm doing is wrong say it at the top of your lungs boy don't you underestimate me
