"Go"

Left you,
Left you there in,
There in the sunlight,
In the sunshine by the window sill in the kitchen,
In light of what was to come it was not enough,

Just like,
Like the card board,
The cardboard that covers,
The missing panes and cracks in our bedroom windows,
Should have known it wouldn't keep out the cold it was not enough,

It's not enough,
It's not enough,
It's not enough and it never was,

And I'll call out,
With a name I,
A name I was trying to recall you,
And we'll grow out,
When it's time and the skins we know, no longer fit us,
It's not enough and it keeps you tired,

See you,
See you there in,
There in the sunlight,
In the sunshine by the window sill in the kitchen,

And I'll call out with a name I,
A name I was trying to recall you,
All things below still feel it was not enough.
