What is this world that we see?
I think evolution is at the end of it's tree
today, Where do we go from here
Without fear without harmony?
Whats left to say (honestly) the games we play
When our president can't even read.

Riot my hands in the air
Riot we don't fucking care

This empire's crumbling down
Greed of the nations will burn to the ground, again
But will we understand?
Raise our hands for equality.
What's left to say, (honestly) the games we play
When our president can't even read.

Riot my hands in the air
Riot we don't fucking care (x2)
