They got tired of living and an apple going black Went up the mad river valley they never looked back Way up the mountain
of a cam bell ridge
Up an old logging rope
across an old mill bridge

They built a little house
out of stone they found Put they're backs to the plow
and the seeds in the ground Water from the spring running plenty and good From a hard wood forest chopping fire from the wood

Ooohhh
They're living the good life
Ooohhh
Living the good life

They got bread in the oven, got books on the shelf They're looking deep into each others eyes keeping to themselves Pursuing ideals with grace and style
And they're making ends meet with their huggle belly guile

Ooohhh
They're living the good life
Ooohhh
Living the good life

Way up the mountain
of a cam bell ridge
Up an old logging rope,

The got the power of the sun and the strength of the soil Finding peace in their hearts and faith in their toil

Ooohhh
They're living the good life
Ooohhh
