(Feat. Dynamic Duo)

The reason I didn't know when you left me
That person is better than me, he took my place
I believed he'd make you happier than I could ever make you
All the things I couldn't do for you, the things I wanted to do for you so badly
That person could do them for you, I just trusted those words
I couldn't do anything else but send you away like you wanted

Do you remember? The words you said "That person is perfect for me"
Asking to send you off, you said, "Because of him,
I'm thankful everyday"
But why are you crying, cracking my hurting heart
After I've sent you off, why why do you keep calling me
Tell me honestly, don't keep hiding it
Is it hard with that person, just end it, don't wait it out
Stop crying now, wipe your tears, stop hurting
I'll wait patiently for you, hold tightly onto my hand
that's been waiting for you

That person doesn't know you like I do
(What you really like)
That person doesn't know how to love you
(How to make you smile)
You don't smile like you used to
(You lost that smile)
Baby please come back and let me know you love you
(Come back to me)

I trusted that you would be happy
Happier than when you were with me
That you would laugh a whole lot more, and also cry a whole lot more
I thought that you'd get everything you dreamed of That's why I was patient, even though I wanted to see you so badly

As I lifted up your smiling form
Saying it's a good thing, but constantly blaming myself

Why do you cry like a child that has lost her mother's hand
Why do you keep coming back like a boomerang that's been thrown
Emptying my heart in bitter wine
The room of my love for you is empty too
Only having some water for breakfast
Spending the long night thinking of you who has left Tightly locking up my ripped heart
But why are you standing there unsteadily in front of my house

That person doesn't know you like I do
(What you really like)
(How to make you smile)
You don't smile like you used to
(You lost that smile)
(Come back to me)

Come back to me now
Just think that you dreamt a bad dream
Don't be scared anymore, it's okay now
Don't ever leave my embrace again
I won't ever send you away again
I know I'm a bit insufficient
But I'm going to protect you from now on

That person doesn't know you like I do
(What you really like)
That person doesn't know how to love you
(How to make you smile)
You don't smile like you used to
(You lost that smile)
(Come back to me)
