I want to be your lover
Wipe your lipstick across my mirror

Your skin across my skin
Your hand on my hips
My neck on your lips

To the backbone

Where the broken glass has been lying
Next to my heart

Where the broken glass has been lying
Next to my heart, to my conscience

Where the broken glass has been
Next to my heart, to my conscience, to my faith

Your flesh against mine
You fletch your teeth,
I'll fletch mine

Up the staircase
Despair case

Take care, don't hurt yourself
Take care, don't hurt myself
