i have got so much to give and to learn what it takes to give love was already there to be found i'm standing in the open door i am leaving now i can't take it no more you rip me up and piece by piece you pick me up as if to see what's underneath, oh i'm... such a beautiful dream i wonder what is turning you around when love was already there to be found oh, love was already there to be found

oh, love was already there to be found

i tell you that my love is stronger even stronger than i am yeah, in fact i'm weak and lazy i love to lay in bed and watch my love go crazy, yeah sometimes it turns me on we sing along together to this very old song that love was already there to be found yeah, love was already there to be found now love was already there to be found and now i go ahead easy because i need it so bad yeah, well i'll better be easy yes i have got so much to give and to learn what it takes to give love

and to learn what it takes honey yeah to give
and to learn what it takes, shoobidooh

love was already there to be found oh oh, love was already there to honey yeah be found I better go and get it

and to learn what it takes to give me love oh i have got so much to give and to learn what it takes honey yeah to give love oh

yes i have got so much to give
and to learn what it takes honey yeah to give love, love, ooh
