In the light of day
You can hear the old ones say
Was the sound last night the wind
Can you feel the change begin
By the fall of the show
A single soul will go
With foot steps on the white
There's an unholy light

There's a hole in the sky
Something evil's passing by, what's to come?
When the siren calls you go
To run with the wolf

When the world makes a turn
The eyes of one will learn
That a sound just like the wind
Only makes the change begin
By the end of the rain
The feelings passed again
From the things that snap and bite
An unholy light

There's a hole in the sky
Something evil's passing by, what's to come?
When the siren calls you go
To run with the wolf

There's a break in the ground
Like the swirling waters
Angry as they pull you down
When the siren calls you go, yeah
To run with the wolf
Run with the wolf

There's a hole in the sky
Something evil's passing by, what's to come?
When the siren calls you go, yeah
To run with the wolf
Run with the wolf

Like a beast in a field

You know his fate is still
To run with the wolf
Oh, run with the wolf

Seas that make you know it's late
Now we go
To run, run, run, run, run, run, run, run with the wolf

Run with the wolf
Run with the wolf
Run with the wolf
Run, run, run, there we go
Run, run, run, run
Run with the wolf
