Your darkness eludes me.
But I'm beyond as you can be.
You look at me blindly, you sleep through my words.
And the storm brings pain!
A shout fires in your name. Through clouds we're lost.
At times I feel its frost.
This is what we do, and its killing me.
If this is what you choose, then so let it be.

Oh, the storm brings pain!
A shout fires in your name.
Through clouds we lorn, it ties, and then we're torn.

I tried to love a hologram, but now I fear we both are damned.

And the storm brings pain!
A shout fires in your name.
Through clouds we lorn, it ties and then we're torn.
