The days are getting longer
I can tell you know it too
Are we changing, or just getting older?

Waiting, hoping that this never repeats
Waiting, hoping that this never repeats

Remember the days, when things were simple?
The days had a distinct start and end

But now, as we grow older
Things spin out of control
Time goes on, people change
We all do things we regret
We all do things we regret

All I am is a man
And I'll fight to take my stand

Mistakes were meant to be made, it's what makes us human
Mistakes were meant to be made, it's what makes us
human

You can't lie to yourself.
