I'm still waiting for your answer
These four walls keep closing in
You say I seem like a stranger
Well I guess that makes two
The sun is setting down
The fireflies are out
They don't make a sound
There's no one else around
It's just you and me now
And I have no doubt
That you're still angry
Baby, we can work this all out
I love it when the coals burn way down low
You slide up next to me
So sweet so
I wonder just how far tonight we'll go
Darling won't you please come home
The sun is setting down
The fireflies are out
They don't make a sound
There's no one else around

It's just you and me now
And I have no doubt
That you're still angry
Baby, we can work this all out
I love it when the coals burn way down low
You slide up next to me
So sweet so slow
I wonder just how far tonight we'll go
Darling won't you please come home
Darling won't you please come home
Darling won't you please come home
