

Alter Bridge "End Is Here"

Endless days
We search for what we hold inside
So hard to find, luck turns
Will the fallen ever reach within and rise again

For the rest of my life
I will find the answers that were always here
I will find the meaning this time
I will fight the end till the end is here

Wasted time
With words that seem to break our will
They bind us still without a care
They tarnish what we hold so dear, what was once so clear

For the rest of my life
I will find the answers that were always here
I will find the meaning this time
I will fight the end till the end is here
