Endless days,
We search for ones we hold inside,
So hard to find,

Luck turns,
Will the falling ever reach within and rise again,

For the rest of my life,
I will find the answers,
That I will always here,
I will find the meaning this time,
I will find the end, until the end is here,
End is here.

Waste our time
With words that seem to break our will,
They bind us still,
Without a care they tarnish what we hold so dear,
What was once so clear.

For the rest of my life,
I will find the answers,
That I will always hear,
I will find the meaning this time,
I will find the end, until the end is here,
End is here.

(guitar solo)

End is here

For the rest of my life,
I will find the answers,
That I will always hear,
I will find the meaning this time,
I will find the end, until the end is here,
