I feel so great just on this cover'cause there are so many things to discover let my feelings be a part of this thing you've just been no it's my turn to be the king this feeling I have is outrageous I never knew that it could be dangerous I'm happy for once can you please let it stay and if it isn't for real then let me play chorus: to be positive and open minded it isn't easy I know I can't be something I'm not I just have to break free from the start I'm walking on a level higher than you are I'm stepping on the line but I will never go to far and if I fall directly when you are around I will land with pride and both feets on the ground this time is different from others this time I'm going with my brothers try the champ not today anyway he will just give you a raised fist up your face break free from the start
