Already building on burial ground
Already ignoring the bullet sound
Don't waste your life on powder illusions
It seem to be the easy solution

Life's hard, never an easy way
Act right proper and so correct
So hard, so many things to say
If you've done wrong you're going to pay

Don't go staring through alleys and stairways
Facing up to fact, so to say
You better close the door in time, my friend
Your instinct, a passion to murder at the end

Stop staring through the stairways
Facing up fact so to say
You better close the door in time, my friend
Or you lead us to the end

Life's hard, never an easy way
Act right proper and so correct
So hard, so many things to say
If you've done wrong you're going to pay

If you've done wrong you're going to pay
If you've done wrong you're going to pay
If you've done wrong you're going to pay
