Hey there you with the easy eyes you keep coming and going
I'm in deep and water is rising and the wind is blowing
Come help me unwind, I'm tangled up tight

We are out on a terrible tide, and the world is spinning
I am wasting my time with the losing and winning
But you're not that type, you're a lion in a fight
And I settle in for the long ride

We get it wrong sometimes
And then we get it right
Yeah we get it right
Yeah we get it right

I search around for your face in the crowd to make me feel alright
Talk is cheap and dreams are loud in the falling light
You say what you mean and you take what you need
And I try to get by but I fall behind

Oh and we get it wrong sometimes
And then we get it right
Yeah we get it right
Yeah we get it right

Hey there you with the easy eyes, where are you going?
You know there are things that I still haven't shown you
I'll help you unwind if you're tangled up tight
I know that I let you down some

Oh and we get it wrong sometimes
And then we get it right
Oh yeah we try and we try, till we get it right
Uh huh, we try and we try till we get it right
