I've been around these fields and fires
I've been scorned by love's desires
These old wheels take me across town
This is just a starting back
All the years spent watching clocks sets
Got me wondering, spinning around.

All I want is to keep on watching
These scenes and easy miles as they're calling
And you in the front seat
The sound of falling
As the world goes by
These windows I just want to keep watching

We headed off to inri
We watched stellers on the balcony
From our fenced in little backyard
You said that times were getting though
And I said yes they are my love
But you can rest now I'll keep guard

All I want is to keep on watching
These scenes and easy miles as they're calling
And you in the front seat
The sound of falling
As the world goes by
These windows I just want to keep watching

Yeah, oh woo oh hey yeah
In my shirt pocket I carry these dreams and
There is a certain twilight seems
But sometimes I get lost with all the other things
There's a light post across the street that Gives off thin light blue-ish green
And I wonder; have we heard the reckoning?
The reckoning,.

All I want is to keep on watching
These scenes and easy miles as they're calling
And you in the front seat
The sound of falling

As the world goes by
These windows I just want to keep watching

All I want is to keep on watching
These scenes and easy miles as they're calling
And you in the front seat
The sound of falling
As the world goes by
These windows I... oh yeah-y yeah
I just want to keep watching
