Some stories start "once upon a time"
Like a dreamer's dream, but theirs aren't mine
I just worked hard
I wasn't the kind for wishes
You can safely say I'm not your everyday princess
Now life isn't always what it seems
If you mix a little magic in New Orleans
It's a jumbalaya to stimulate your senses
Not your usual taste, not your everyday princess
Now life is what you make it
We can all be royalty
It's a prize for you, so take it
You never know what you can be
It sure is great having breakfast in your bed
With a sparkly crown sittin' on your head
But that's not me, I wear mine cookin' up new dishes
Because I'll never be your everyday princess
Ooh
Life is what you make it
We can all be royalty
It's a prize for you, so take it
You never know what you can be
'Cause you can have it all
Just look at me!
Makin' my own dreams come true
Not your everyday princess, still a princess every day
Ooh ooh
