Take this time and what I'll be
View this world and what I see
A million souls running around
With bloodshot eyes and nothing!
A staggered look, a broken smile
It's your life, has it been worthwhile?

It's about time this star shines
Take this world and make it mine
And don't go without me
It's not time to say good-bye

Take this time, I'm on my way
I'll take one more step away
A Step to you and a step to me
A step right at what I can
A staggered look, a broken smile
It's your life, has it been worthwhile?

I wish I could take just one more time
One more day
The ones I would love, the things I would say
The things I would do
The things I would say

It's about time this star shines
Take this world and make it mine
And don't go without me
It's not time to say good-bye
