You caught my eye when I walked by
Tension from the way you moved,
Your heart is bruised

We sit and laugh
It's all an act
The lies, they see through
You're such a fool

As makeup runs down your cheeks
Found that you are lost again
Try to make your way back home
Found that you're alone

Put on your dress and look your best
Let this be your night
We'll laugh and die

So drink it down
You need this now
Make the pain go away
I can't be saved

As makeup runs down your cheeks

Found that you are lost again
Try to make your way back home
Found that you're alone

Fall down
Searching for the perfect for you to lose it all again
Slow down
Keep it at a steady pace
As I watch you fade away

As makeup runs down your cheeks
Found that you are lost again
Try to make your way back home
Found that you're alone

As makeup runs down your cheeks

Found that you are lost again
Try to make your way back home
Found that you're alone
