I walked a thousand miles today
If it was only in my mind
The right words are so hard to say
The right words are so hard to find

And I'll go, I'll find, what's right for me
You always see, Yeah and I'll go

The rain falls down so hard today
Bursts of sunlight breaking through
One day, I swear I'll find my way
One day I swear, I'll find you

And I'll go, I'll keep on searching
The dark is missing, the light keeps disappearing
And I'll go

I can't make you follow where I go
One day, I'll make you smile and you will know how I feel
Can't you see the clouds are breaking?
A little late, but I'm still waiting
A little lost, but don't stop searching
Cause I'm alive and I'm not leaving here alone

And I'll go, I'll keep on searching
The dark is missing
And the light keeps disappearing and I'll go
