When that happened to me at first I could not see,
but then I decided not to close my eyes!
And then I found a way, and impossible way...
So you said! But it made me fly right away

Now I'm just like a token, spinning in a trance
But surprise! I don't fall and I don't choose either side!
I keep rolling around in a dance I just have found.
The laws of nature make exceptions somehow?

You can't really stop me now!

I keep balancing on but I'm good because I'm strong,
I turn when I see you reaching for me.
And it still makes me laugh when you thought you had had all of me- but you see: I keep changing on.

You can't really stop me now!
