Everything will be alright, baby
Everything will be alright
Just hold on, baby, just hold on

The stars are gonna fall in line, baby
It's gonna take a little time
So, just hold on
Baby, just hold on

Baby, why are we still feeding
The wolves at our door?
'Cause, we can give 'em everything we've got
And they'll still come back for more

I'm staying around for these hard times
It's more than just a bump in the road
But, don't you worry your pretty little head
If there's one thing that I know

Everything will be alright, baby
Everything will be alright
Just hold on, baby, just hold on

The stars are gonna fall in line, baby
It's gonna take a little time
So, just hold on
Baby, just hold on

The leaves turn brown and they all fall down
And a screen door slams in the wind
Baby I'll try to keep the weather outside
But it's beggin' to come in

When the wind blows colder just climb a little closer
Baby, I'll be right here
And we'll make love 'til the sun comes up
And I'll whisper in your ear

Everything will be alright, baby
Everything will be alright
Just hold on, baby, just hold on

The stars are gonna fall in line, baby
It's gonna take a little time
So, just hold on
Baby, just hold on

Everything will be alright, baby
Everything will be alright
Just hold on, baby, just hold on

The stars are gonna fall in line, baby
It's gonna take a little time
So, just hold on
Baby, just hold on

Everything will be alright, baby
Everything will be alright
Just hold on, baby, just hold on

The stars are gonna fall in line, baby
It's gonna take a little time
So, just hold on
Baby, just hold on
