I know this is it but I can't admit
It's all in the past
Though I can't ignore the fact no more
Your memory will last
Deep within my mind I will always find
Emotion still remains
Oh my heart still yearns cause the fire still burns
I can't put out the blaze

I would never have assumed
To leave me with a mental wound
You know the reason why I can forgive and forget
You have left me scarred for life
Your bitter words cut like a knife

I... can forgive and forget!
Forgive and forget!

You've only got yourself to blame
