To get away from all my grief and my pain
I know there's only one conclusion I don't remember how my life used to be but still I've got the right solution take my life take my life... now I'm not dead suck the life out of me

In the moonrise I see the end approach I can feel the wind take away my hope I know your fright
I sense your fear
I'm reading your mind I'll keep my dreams about the sins in the dept of my darkest soul

Why am I here
I just want it to end now please won't you help me turn around look at my face
I want to leave now let me fade erase my existence can you tell me why am I... not dead suck the life out of me

In my own eyes I can forget my dream solitude is now just a matter of time complete confused what does this mean how can this set me free because of all the trust I got how can I ever end you...

why do you pray there's no God
there's no heaven
just hell
so you can open the gate to eternal relief now all that's left in me is this my final desire just fade away

to get away from all your grief and your pain believe there's more than one conclusion you don't remember how your life used to be that's why you got the wrong solution stay...with me

I'm not dead
