i want to go where the action is i want to fly through the urban blight i want to live like a shadow in the dark and only move at night a story bought a one story house that let's the winter bleed 21 years old and no money

how did she know the roof would cave in over and over again
beat up bruised a record that's broken adina's crying again

beat up chevy with a trailer in town is what they call home now one more hill or river to cross on on the way to another town crying in her beer and always running away may be not so much running but hopin' for better days

[repeat 4x]

Hey Hey

she's crying again
