Yeah

Well I heard you say I need something
About friendship that loyalty's the weapon of the weak
When you can't, can't, can't, can't, can't realize
And the tears comes down and release

My love to you is true
A tattoo
That ain't ever coming off
I'll wait for the truth hits you
I'll take a loss at any cost

When we met you listened and you questioned
Every single thing that I did
The tears comes down and release

My love to you is true
A tattoo
That ain't ever coming off
I'll wait for the truth hits you
I'll take a loss at any cost
Well I borrowed some courage from you
Through confusion I've made it this far
You said I could have had everything
If I just looked at myself, at myself!

Yeah!

My love to you is true
A tattoo
That ain't ever coming off
I'll wait for the truth hits you
I'll take a loss at any cost (repeat chorus once)

...at any cost (x3)
