kick the kick drum increase the weight of the sound the dialog of maximum decibels is enough to move the fucking ground i'm gonna amplify the rage of a class that's thought inferior the message in the volume this song a carrier

unwritten rules
rules understood
unwritten rules
boomin' out the speakers and amps in the hood i like to drink beer play music and go to shows it's not about paying your dues if you do it out of love i'm not a jaded junkie running dry i don't know anything else i'll be playing till i die
