

Rancid

"Wrongful Suspicion"

Visit "Wrongful Suspicion" on MotoLyrics.com all right this one goes out to all our friends in new york h2o, the slackers, stubborn all stars must respect hey tim take it my man well i heard they fly a confederate flag down at the state house got a gun to my head from the hand of a man down at the state house well i reach for a dollar in the hole in my pocket down at the state house they said i got some rights and i really shouldn't knock it down at the state house what can we do broken bones, broken roles they can all be fixed oh yeah so let those who battle with the pen and the others with the fist its the gospel now the strong ones will be defiant with words that can convince you can take this as a role but i'll take it as a diss well they wanta hold me with wrongful suspicion down at the state house and i'm all bundled up in an awkward position down at the state house and they say its all part of a hundred year tradition down at the state house and i do feel they got a mental condition down at the state house what can we do hey gettin crazy watch me was it you all along working for the cia iran contra panama american casket parlet visions of light yes visions of death no visions gone astray oh ya jump on that dazy tim my man oh and you fly away ignore the weak ignore the poor down at the state house they got a real good position for me on the floor hell no down at the state house they said your gonna make a real nice world down at the state house but they do not know the law not no at all down at the state house what can we do all right this one goes out to sick of it all agnostic front and the front still blocking that east generation dj ansen dave hillyard and the rocksteady seven siren and the bob sinisters nine lives and his new band under the gun madball marky ramone and the intruders hey marky go get your fuckin shine box

Visit Rancid page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.