(GUITAR SOLO & ELECTRIC PIANO INTRO)

when old man blue comes around and all of your friends it seems have let you down

don't you worry

the sun's gonna shine for you someday do you ever wake and just bow your head and find yourself wishing you were lying dead

don't you worry

I knew you when you were just a helpless child swimming in your morning dew but the tide rushed in and you changed your style drifting out far from view so sail away

the earth won't care and seek your place on the starry stairs

don't you worry
