

The Mountain Goats

"Thank you Mario, but our princess is in another castle"

Visit "Thank you Mario, but our princess is in another castle" on MotoLyrics.com

I waited here all by myself
The room was dark and it smelled like sulfur
I heard the screams from way down in the darkness
Felt pretty sure my life was over

I kept my hat on just for luck
Sang simple tunes the whole night through
I wondered if I'd wake to find myself in flames
As I waited here for you

Yeah when you came in
I could breathe again

I saw some guys dressed up like sorcerers
Blue robes that flowed above the ground
They came and went and I was frightened for my life
I tried not to make a sound

Just when my solitude was closing in
I heard a howl like screeching tires
And I told you the one thing I know how to say
Through the bright ringing drone of eight-bit choirs

Yeah when you came in
I could breathe again

Submitter's comments:Â

Super Mario Bros. is one of the best games of all times and countries!
I think this song is about Toad who was saved by Mario.

Visit The Mountain Goats page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.