Some people tries to tell me that im to blind to see, but they dont know nothing, nothing about me. yeah, im a lazy person and it may seem like i dont care, but io really wanna make things better, better everywhere.Its like a permanent headache, a claim that i cant stake a feebleness so total it makes everything the same. and when im out of hopes and dreams theres nothing left of me just a empty shell and a sould full of grief. i dont need their bullshit and i dont need their fear i dont need their system, i dont wanna end up here. i wont walk on blindly on their narrow, stupid path, im waiting and i had enough of this shit i need a dream that lasts, not a one thing im sure of, i dont wanna work it seems so stupid to me, to do something i hate so much i wanna enjoy the little time that i got. it makes the same what i think and what i say nobody listens anyway
