When I see the news on TV
All I see is tragedy
I ask myself is this just me or do everybody see
That this is one hell of a fucked up world?

Some people live in poverty
Some people live in total luxury
We're supposed to share it equally and still
We stick to this insanity
And the proof that this is one hell of a fucked up world

The stars shine bright and the sky's so blue
It's not long until we destroy them too

The fact that Nazis can walk the streets
With dead animals on their feet
The fact that people still use shell
Though they know the [unverified]
Proves that this is one hell of a fucked up world
A fucked up world

The stars shine bright and the sky's so blue
It's not long until we destroy them too
We're on the road that leads to hell
I hope the guilty will burn real well
