[Sung by Kristofer Astrom, Fireside]

Congregate your chimeras before its to late realize you make us suffocate. its your philosophy to antagonize your friends. think you suffers of prudency, can you accept yourself. you feel offended by our so called frivolity. does it make a difference to you what people do in privacy. Dont' tell me what to think or what to say. i'ts non of your fucking buisness anyway. Concentrate on changing yourself, youre no better than i. Mind your own and noone else, defeated by denial. Cause what i do is nothing you should bother to rearrange, because i always stay myself you say you do this to show that you care but who the hell gave you the right to interfere.
