does, i'll kick his head in. i've known you for years, i know all your moves, i just cant believe that it caved in this soon. and i'm playin it over and over again in my head. you said evan is comin over again. i asked where you go'd, and you said where you went: he took you to movies and carnival tents. bought you big houses and payed all the rent. and i'm playin it over and over again in my head. oh but Los Angeles ain't that far, and the rest of the girls said they'd be there, by my car.
