"Far Away"

I break fall and disintegrate when no one's around to see me shaking You take everything that I say with cool black eyes like you don't see me And make believe that we're not bleeding I can see that you are always So far away and so far I've missed my chance to tell you You make me radiate but so far you're oh so far away You're through there is nothing I can do I want your dreams as bad as you do To come true so why can't you remember me the way you used to And make believe that we're still the same We could be but you are always I can't relate to what you say when every day you're so far away Realize we've been sitting here all night the TV burns the way we used to In blue light I can finally feel the bite stand up and leave without saying good bye And make believe that nothing changed Here for me I know I'm always
