My world's changed
From how it was before
It complicates everything a little more
Now that I found you
Now that I found you
I'm losing my mind now that I found you
Call me crazy but I'm telling the truth might not believe me but you know it too
I'm losing my mind now that I found you
Now I can't sleep
I watch you breath in the night
I can't speak
The words don't come out right
I can't think
My thoughts race by in a blur
I can't scream
I whisper every word
If I could I'd take you away
From the pain you have everyday
Take you away start something new
I can now that I found you
Now that I found you
Now that I found you
